

WHEN REUBEN COMES TO TOWN

The Citizens of Our Capital Make Enough Money to Last Them for the Next Four Years

$30 A DAY FOR ROOM

Washington, Feb. 15.—The Capital thinks of inauguration day as the time "when Reuben comes to town." In any other city Reuben always haunts the regions where the grass grows tall and is uncut, and where he is met at the depot by obliging strangers with black mustaches who sell him the Union station or the morgue or a gold brick or something equally fascinating, while he hands over good coin in return. But to Washington all who come are named Reuben. They may have grown up amid the clutter and carnalism of New York or ambled along in the peaceful gait of Indianapolis. But so far as the window sellers, hotelkeepers, restaurateurs and concessionaires of Washington are concerned, their collective name is Reuben and each of them has whiskers a foot long.

For what the event of a trainload of farmers is to Chicago, what "hog killing" is to a county seat, inauguration day is to a day and time to fleece the friendly visitor. It is the occasion to charge him double and triple fee all round. It is the hour to put on a Reception Committee badge, meet all the trains and hold up their occupants.

The real systematic crackerjack of Washington run the hotels and restaurants and rent windows and seats along the route of the inaugural parade. The second-class burglars operate stores and railroads. All the merchants need to have a cheerful habit of "subscribing" a large sum to the fund of the inaugural ball, getting ample publicity out of the fact, and then have principal and interest of their "contribution" returned to them as soon as the ball receipts were counted. More: They were simply permitted to offer a certain sum, proportioned according to their influence with the Committee on Plunder, and when the ball was over they were awarded in real cash a certain per cent. the money they never for a moment parted from. It was a great scheme, Woodrow Wilson cringed to it—innocently or otherwise—when he "suggested" that if there were an inaugural ball this year he and his family would be unable to attend.

From the howl that greeted this announcement the uninformed would have supposed the Washington "business men" had no opportunities to meet Reuben and take him in. But until the curious and the turf-hunting from the interior cease to enter our gates on the quadrennal day of joy there will be a plenty for the workers in this vineyard.

The Art of Extractions

Any day in any week of the year the art of extracting money from visitors is seen in its highest perfection in Washington. The only industries in the town are banking, real estate retailing and working for the government. But despite this handicap, the way out the average Washingtonian can separate a visitor or resident from his roll is a revelation in the art. During inauguration time however, the ordinary processes are cast to the winds. The really fine work is done at this time. Each possessor of something this visitor wants—be it seat window room, bath or food—charges enough to last him the four years until the guest returns. He who permits a visitor to escape with any money is denounced at meeting of the Board of Trade and pointed out on the streets as a common traitor or fool.

The other day some creditors asked the court to appoint a receiver for the new Washington Hotel. They showed the building had been constructed and equipped on a capital of about $15. In reply assurances were given that the hotel was permitted to run until inauguration time the earnings would more than overcome the present financial difficulties. This practical argument appealed to a Washington court and hotel was permitted to continue business under an indebtedness of $332,000.

Some days ago Reuben (of New York) came to town to arrange for his inaugural quarters. He dropped into a Pennsylvania-avenue hotel a second-rater.

"Please give me your rates for quarters for the evening of March 3 to the morning of March 6," he said.

"Just what do you want?" asked the assistant robber behind the counter. "I can give you a small inside room and bath for one for $42."

"Fire!" yelled the victim. "Over $80 a day!"

"Nothing as unreasonable as that," said the clerk. "It is only $8 a day. We are forced to charge you for seven days whether you stay or not."

"But there will be two of us," ventured the man. "Then we want $84 for an inside room?"

Strange Negro Killed Sunday Afternoon At Baseball Park

Sunday afternoon between one and two o'clock at the colored base ball park while gambling Virgil Hooker shot and killed a negro named, Large Thomas who had only been living here a short time. They had had some words and Hooker pulled out his 38 and fired once when the other man dropped dead. Hooker made his escape and at last account had not been heard from. The officers have sent word to all the surrounding towns to apprehend him if possible.

EAT CABBAGE, FISH SAUSAGE, NEW BREAD

"Pape's Diapepsin" Digests Food When Stomach Can't—Cures indigestion

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyapeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back. You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—its trees just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eruptions of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

VALENTINE PARTY

Young Man Delightfully Entertains At His Home

Master John Valentine Fenwick, in celebration of his eleventh birthday, entertained a merry company of his little friends, Friday evening, at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Fenwick on Railroad Street. The rooms were artistically decorated with a quantity of crimson and white hearts and candles of red and white carrying out the color schemes of the evening. Out flowers and potted plants were used in forming a beautiful back ground. Mrs. Fenwick, assisted by her daughter, Katherine, entertained the merry party in all manner of games and contests until time was ripe for the change of programme. Stationed in the hall was a post office which contained a daintily arranged valentine addressed to each young man in the company, these were delivered to each in turn as they presented themselves at the office. Upon opening their mail it was discovered that in order to partake of the many good things hidden behind the curtain it would be necessary to locate the fair maid whose name appeared on the card. This was readily done and the happy pairs were escorted to the dining room by the host and his partner, Miss Clara Cloyd, acting as hostess for the occasion. The table was beautifully and tastefully decorated in the colors of the evening, crimson and white hearts, tiny cupid and red and white candles. A delightful two course luncheon was served. It being the 14th day of February a number in correspondence were invited. The fourteen invited included: Sue Wade Davis, Dorothy Bramwell, Gladys Whitford, Thelma West, Katherine, and Eleanor Blondin, Clara Cloyd, Fannie Fugate, Robert Nourse, Redford Cloyd, Harold Oldham, Earl Fenwick, Willie Browder and Eugene Withespoon.

'Round The Roundhouse (By R. R. Riter)

Perhaps you have not noticed it, but I have not been writing any for the past two weeks. I have several reasons for not doing so. Paul McGary has been helping a machinist Mexico is fighting again, G. O. Hoes went skating, and numerous other reasons equally as important.

General Foreman R. B. Salmon, was in Nashville last week.

L. D. Vinson, was laying off last Sunday.

Henry Tresch got it in the neck a few days ago. "Hot" fire dropped from the ash pans, of the engine on which he was working, and burned him on the neck behind his ears.

"And all alone she went."

I have always been taught that nothing is impossible with God. There, is a machinist helper here, now, who has changed my ideas some, as I am unable to figure out how his mouth could be made larger without moving his ears back.

Engineer F. P. Giannini, Sr., has been off sick a few days.

Engineer H. L. Smith had some trouble with the caller a few days ago, because the caller would not pron me to run the same fireman, out with him, that he had in.

Fireman Brockmole made a trip to Paris, Tenn., with engineer H. L. Smith, a few days ago.

S. W. Carr was called to Central City last Wednesday on account of the death of his brother, John Carr.

F. P. Giannini, Jr., has been off sick.

Paul Pilkinton and "Bosco" Shaver are contemplating a trip to Nashville very soon. They don't know much about the city and have purchased a large map of the U. S. to see if they can find it.

In reading over one of the daily papers, I see where Prof. Galues, who is at the head of a Y. M. C. A. in one of the Western railroad towns, says slang is getting entirely too much headway with young men and something should be done immediately to eliminate it beyond recall.

I agree with the guy. Let's cut it out. Stop crapping up the conversation. Nix on this slang, speil it right. Without some wise motto's explanation.

Some of usboobs who've got it all—Who are always dipping out some junk;

Will hear some other nutty geek squall

Or edge in a fuzzy wheezer that's punk.

It's mook on your dome or beetles in your bush

That causes you to "pit it on so strong

Let's peg a Brodie on such slush. It's on the blink. We knew it's wrong.

The geek who slings it through the ink.

And does it for the ewag; Should cheese it for a while and think For it's nothing more than just a gax.

"Three Twins"

The best example of the progress of electrical stage illumination is found in the production of "Three Twins," which will be seen at the Garrick Saturday February 22.

Features of the show are a gigantic electrical swing, weighing three tons and a "faceograph." In addition to the lavish use of small hand incandescents by the members of the company is made.

This is in distinct contrast to the first efforts at such a novelly many years ago by the late Dave Henderson, producer of spectacles. He organized an "electrical ballet" in which each girl wore several bulbs. The power, however, came from large storage batteries, one of which burned each dancer. These clumsy articles had the weight and appearance of a soldier's knapsack. The "Three Twins" girls have no such impediments and the little lamps are no more bother than their powder puffs.

Perryman-Brown

Sunday afternoon at the home of the brides parents on Methodist hill, Mr. John B. Brown one of the St. Bernard popular clerks and Miss Elsie Ray Perryman, daughter of the Rev. J. R. Perryman were united in the bonds of wedlock. They will make this city their future home.

After the wedding the happy couple and a few invited guests were served an elaborate wedding supper by the bridegroom's parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brown. The tables were handsomely decorated with beautiful flowers and fairly groaned beneath its weight of good things. The following guests were present: Mrs. Lula Brewster, T. L. Whitfield, Gladie Peyton, Mrs. Alford May and daughter, of Owensboro, Iley Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. Riley Brown, John R. Perryman, Fannie Perryman, May Whitfield, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Vannoy, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ashby and sons. The wedding supper was greatly enjoyed by all present and they with a host of other friends wish the young couple a long and happy life.

Entertainment Of The Season

HARVE SOUTHARD

Guilty Of Manslaughter, Two To Twenty-One Years The Penalty

The jury in the case of Harve Southard, who was tried in the Circuit Court in Madisonville last week returned a verdict Saturday night about 8:30 after being out since 12:30 that day and fixed the punishment from two to twenty years in the penitentiary. This case attracted lots of attention and large crowds were in the court house during the trial. The attorneys for the defense were Yost and Laffoon assisted by Jerrold Jonson. The Prosecution was assisted by Dave Kincheloe. The speeches from both sides were the best that have been heard in a case of this kind in Madisonville in years, and occupied part of Friday night and Saturday until noon when the jury took the case.

EDWARD BROWN SERIOUSLY INJURED

Saturday Afternoon, Burned With Powder

Edward Brown, the fifteen-year old son of Robert Brown met with a serious accident caused by powder burn Saturday afternoon while at play. He had powder in his pocket when the head of a match, lighted by the boy who was with him dropped into his pocket catching the powder on fire and burning Brown's body, hands and face severely.

The boys were at Arnold mines when the accident occurred and he was brought to town and a physician called immediately. His condition probably is not fatal but considered very serious.

Do You Know How A Suit of Clothes or a Pair of Shoes is Made?

Are You a Judge of Fabric and of Leather? Are You a Judge of Workmanship?

Did you know there are 97 parts in the average suit of clothes and the workmanship on any one of these parts can be skimmed and cheapened?

Did you know, for example, that in the H. S. & M. factory they put on only hand kneaded collars, which takes a tailor 15 minutes to make, while most factories have a machine which does the work in less than a second.

Did you know that there are forty-eight parts to an average pair of shoes, and that every one of these parts can be cheapened to make a price.

Now, what are we getting at?

Simply this! If you know merchandise, you can buy your clothes or shoes most any place. But if you don't know merchandise, then there is only one thing left for you to do, and that is to buy it from the merchant who does know and whom you can trust.

Since we were boys we have studied the merchandise proposition. We know it as well as our brain will permit—we have sold goods in Hopkins county all our lives and have watched our business grow all the while, not by leaps and bounds, but gradually as the people learned us and learned our methods. We attribute whatever measure of success has come to us and the splendid trade we are enjoying today solely to having at all times dealt fairly and honestly with the people. We believe it is the only way in which a great business can be built and maintained.

Along these lines, and these only, do we make our bid for your business.

HOW MRS. BROWN SUFFERED

During Change of Life—How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a Well Woman.

Iola, Kansas.—"During the Change of Life I was sick for two years. Before I took your medicine I could not bear the weight of my clothes and was bloated very badly. I doctored with three doctors but they did me no good. They said nature must have its way. My sister advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I purchased a bottle. Before it was gone the bloating left me and I was not so sore. I continued taking it until I had taken twelve bottles. Now I am stronger than I have been for years and can do all my work, even the washing. Your medicine is worth its weight in gold. I cannot praise it enough. If more women would take your medicine there would be more healthy women. You may use this letter for the good of others."—Mrs. D. H. Brown, 809 N. Walnut St., Iola, Kan.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Binding Kings With Chains.
Do we realize that the work of binding kings with chains is going on before our very eyes today? Perhaps we have not noticed it, but the newspapers record the facts from day to day and from year to year. There is not much more of the work to be done. In a little while the kings will have been securely chained in every corner of the earth.

Not that the chains are literal chains. O No! The chains that binding the kings are more effective than merely iron chains. When David wrote that the Messiah would "Bind their kings with chains and their nobles with iron" (Psa. 149:8,) he meant that with the establishment of His reign would come the end of man's tyranny over man. With the passing of copper cooking utensils passed the copper-smith, with the passing of the horse will go the blacksmith, and with the passing of Satan's permission "to scatter the power of the holy people" (Daniel 12:7) will pass the king.

The United States, France, Portugal, China, Switzerland, Cuba, Mexico, the Philippines, Hawaii, and all the Central and South American nations have done with kings, and in the last ten years every absolute monarchy in the world has passed out of existence. The kings are taking it hard. Press dispatches say the Ex Empress of China weeps ceaselessly, that she lives in the old palace of the Forbidden City, absolutely deserted by all relatives and former court attendants, except a few servants, who spend much of their time robbing the palace of all the

Ballard's SNOW LINIMENT

Is the Right Remedy for All Affections of the Flesh.

If the wound is cleaned with the liniment applied promptly, the healing process begins at once and the wound heals from the inside outwardly, thus forming a perfect cure. It leaves no scar. If the wound heals on the outside too quickly, pus forms under the surface and breaks out into a running sore that is hard to cure and inevitably leaves a bad scar.

Owners of blooded stock prefer this liniment to all others for that reason, and they use it not only on fine animals, but on human flesh, as it does its work quickly and thoroughly.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Jones who lived on the lot next to the big Imperial factory, wants to thank the men who worked so hard to save their home from burning. They carried everything out expecting to see their home go up in smoke and ashes, but by heroic work of their friends it was saved.

Jeff Cunningham, formerly of Centtown, but now of Eldorado, Ill., and Miss Lillie Robards, of Johnson Island country, went to Madisonville and were married Saturday, by Rev. C. F. Wimberly. They will leave Tuesday for Eldorado, where the groom has a position in the mines at that place. The bride was sixteen, the groom twenty-three.

The poolers of the pooling district of Nebo met at the court house Saturday to consider the offer made by the Imperial and Regies of ten million pounds of tobacco. The question was "shall we sell at the price offered, or shall we prize?" We learn that the meeting agreed to refer the matter to their county committeeman and abide by their decision, which we consider a wise conclusion.

Mrs. Ella Jackson, wife of Ebon Jackson died of tuberculosis Thursday night, she leaves a husband and little girl six years old Katherine. Mrs. Jackson was thirty years of age and had been sick two years.

REV. J. R. EVANS, EDITOR

Mrs. Idella Carrington, who was operated on at the hospital at Clarksville, Tenn., was able to return home last Thursday much improved. We trust she will soon fully recover.

There was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Miller last Sunday night a fine girl. Mother and baby are both doing well at this writing.

Mrs. Ella Patterson is still very sick.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the many friends for their kindness and generous assistance given me during the serious illness and death of my infant son William. May God bless you to do for others as you have done for me.

Yours in sorrow,
Kate Phillips.

Clyde Thompson, operator for the L. & N. is working in Hopkinsville this week.

There is a difference between fruit growing and forestry yet most of the directions for fruit growing are directions for producing rapid wood growth only. This means coming into bearing late and irregular bearing on account of lack of enough available mineral plant food to raise a crop of fruit and to set strong fruit buds in the same season.

POTASH

Two years before the trees are expected to come into bearing the annual application of minerals should begin, using 50 to 100 pounds Murrate of Potash and 100 to 200 pounds of bone, acid phosphate or basic slag per acre. Potash improves the flavor, shipping quality and keeping power as well as the yield of fruit. Write us for Potash prices and for free books with formulae and directions.
